Year 5

Last month saw the start of a year-long project between Year 5 and Magdalen College, which will lead to an enormous performance at Oxford Town Hall in July. Students from the College, each with a different instrument, delivered a musical performance to the children. Then, they began to teach them the words and actions to a song that they will perform with over 300 other primary school children from around Oxfordshire. Magdalen College will return in the new year for further sessions at Abbey Woods and more details of the actual event will follow closer to the time, as parents may well be able to attend.
