Year 5 English

As the children returned to class after break on Tuesday, they discovered parts of sentences hanging around the classroom, a pair of six-fingered gloves and a letter introducing the latest book that will be the inspiration for their writing over the coming weeks. Using the various clues, they had to guess what the book might be about, where the story was set and who the key characters might be. Eventually, they determined that the book was 'The Lost Happy Endings' by Carol-Ann Duffy and Jane Rey. At the end of the three-week module, they will write a prequel to the original fairy story.
